Saskatchewan Aviation Council Awards Submission Format and Requirements

Saskatchewan Aviation Council Awards Categories:

The Saskatchewan Aviation Hall of Fame Award recognizes extraordinary lifelong professional contributions to aviation. The recipients of the Saskatchewan Aviation Hall of Fame Award are the builders of the aviation industry. For decades, through their perseverance, business savvy and technological innovation, award winners have created an industry and a community around air service in Saskatchewan.

The David Eckmire Industry Service Award is presented in recognition of an individual within the aviation support industry who exemplifies pursuit of excellence and service to others. Past recipients have included airport operators, air show coordinator, pilot instructor, aircraft builders and restorers, Aviation Council supporters and others. This Award honors high standards for individual achievement on behalf of and in support of the aims, goals and objectives of Saskatchewan aviation.

The Distinguished Airman Award is designed to recognize and honor pilots, engineers and others who have given distinguished service to Saskatchewan aviation. The Distinguished Airman Award will recognize those past and present heroes who form the backbone of the aviation industry in Saskatchewan.
